

Join Us for a 16 CEU Training in Walnut Creek, California

Dr. Kenneth Perlmutter leads this 3-day training Thurs eve thru Sat afternoon. January 28–30, 2016.

WORKING WITH COMPLEX FAMILIES: SYSTEMIC ENGAGEMENT APPROACHES AND MANAGING COUNTER-TRANSFERENCE

Designed for MFTs, LCSWs, PhDs/PsyDs, RNs working with addiction, trauma, mood, eating and personality disorders

Clinicians working with complex clients and their wounded families routinely struggle to engage the family system in a way that promotes sustainable change and reliable therapeutic rapport. Powerful myths and inter-generational histories of impaired coping reinforce systemic patterns of relapse, illness, loss and control. Projections onto the clinician by both client and family members fuel counter-transference reactions which can derail the work or weaken therapeutic alliances.

We start with a dinner discussion on Thurs eve. Then Friday 9-5 and Sat 9-3.

Join a group of gifted colleagues for a dinner presentation followed by two days in which you'll improve skills to:

Engage Members of Family Systems to Support and Deepen the Clinical Work
Develop Systemic Formulations to Improve Diagnoses and Treatment Plans
Make use of counter-transference rather than burnout from its effects
Add family components to treatment

Dr. Kenneth Perlmutter, licensed Clinical Psychologist (PSY25112), has dedicated his career to improving the lives of individuals and families experiencing addiction and other behavioral health difficulties. Founder of The Family Recovery Institute and Clinical Director of the Mind Therapy Clinic in Corte Madera and San Francisco, CA, he has also served on the Graduate Faculty at San Francisco State University Counseling Department and as Associate Professor of Chemical Dependency Studies at Cal State East Bay. He oversees family programming and provides clinical supervision for several well-regarded California treatment centers specializing in mood disorders, trauma, ED and addiction.
